As May tends to be one of our lesser than busy Months, giving us a much needed respite from the hustle of winter and early Spring, and our extremely busy summer season, our crews take advantage of this time by attending the many Continuing Education classes held during EMS week by local hospitals and surrounding EMS agencies. As these classes are mandatory to continue our certifications as prehospital providers in New York State, the time is invaluable.

Warm and pleasant weather brings its inherent fair- weather hazards despite how wonderful it feels after the cold and particularly wet spring, so watch the roads for cyclists, walkers, runners, hikers, motorcyclists, and our furry friends both large and small. Statistically, we see an uptick of auto accidents starting in June- so drive safe, wear a seat belt, assure your children are in properly sized and installed child safety seats, and pay attention to the road... after all, your cell phone won’t work anyhow!
